THE NISQUALLY VALLEY NEWS PRESENTS

The 12 Days of Christmas

A Guide to Make Your Christmas Wonderful and Stress-Free

EDITOR'S NOTE: Traditionally, the Twelve Days of Christmas started on Christmas Day and the 12 following days were a time of Yuletide merriment. The celebrations lasted until the Feast of the Epiphany on Jan. 6 — the 12th day.

The Nisqually Valley News has taken that tradition from the 1700s and changed it just a bit. Instead of after Christmas, our Twelve Days of Christmas starts before Christmas and is a guide to make your holidays a pleasant experience for you and yours.

Whether you go all out and prepare, prepare, prepare, or just let the holidays unfold, the most important thing is to take a lesson from the big man in red: be jolly.

Saturday, Dec. 14

Christmas preparations are in full swing. You're about to embark on 12 days of fun combined with a bit of stress.

What better way to begin the Christmas countdown by focusing you and your family on donating to the needy. Food banks are always in need of food, monetary donations and volunteer time. As you drive down to the food bank, pop in a Christmas CD and talk to the family about the importance of giving, as contrasted to the focus on getting presents.

Christmas, a celebration of the birth of Christ, is really about Christ's message. It is, after all, better to give than receive.

One way to combine Christ's message and a bit of Yuletide cheer is to go to a free Christmas movie with a toy drive, complete with a photo with Santa. Yelm Cinemas presents the second annual Free Movie and Toy Drive. Donate an unwrapped toy and get into the movie "Home Alone" for free. Doors open at 9 with the show starting at 10 a.m., free photos with Santa included. Additional sponsors are the Yelm Lions, Prairie Hotel and the Nisqually Valley News.

Your family can also take in

"Humbug," a modern adaptation of "A Christmas Carol" by Daniel Wray, performed by the Music and Drama Team of Yelm's Emanuel Lutheran Church, starting at 7 p.m.

If you are more inclined to stay home, two Christmas TV classics are on the small screen: "It's a Wonderful Life" at 8 p.m. on NBC, and "Frosty Returns" at 8:30 p.m. on CBS.

It might be a good day to get a jump on making Christmas — now only 11 days away — as enjoyable and stress-free as possible by putting in a bit of early work and planning.

But most important, as the pressure of getting all the perfect gifts and balancing a budget, and of putting together a wonderful Christmas starts to turn more into work than celebrating Christ's birth, remember to let some things go and just enjoy the week.

You may not be able to complete everything on your list, but if you take the time to remember what makes the season important to your family, then you have succeeded. Your kids will remember the special moments leading up to the big day more than any gift they receive.

Preparation should include making any dishes ahead of time as possible that can be put into the freezer.

It's also a good time to clean out the refrigerator and throw away anything outdated.

While the kiddos are watching Frosty, this provides an opportunity to wrap presents.

A deep cleaning of the home may be in order, too. If you still have time and energy, finalize your food menu for the week and make a list of needed grocery items. If you haven't bought your tree yet, get going!

Sunday, Dec. 15

You now have 10 days before Christmas. Yesterday just about exhausted you for the week, so today, set it aside for a day of dress-up and play. It's time for family holiday portraits. Make sure your batteries in your video camera and camera are charged and memory cards are emptied. Put on your finest holiday clothes and gather in front of the Christmas tree. Make it a family tradition.

And just to add to your relaxing day, watch the Seattle Seahawks crush the New York Giants starting at 10 a.m. Go Hawks!

Monday, Dec. 16

The kids are in school for one more week. It's time, if you haven't already, to light up the house with decorations.

And since Christmas is a time of hosting family and friends, make sure your entryway shines with a wreath, and place greenery and bows on fireplace mantels. Put up the Christmas stockings and place bright green and red poinsettias throughout the living room. Plan for a place for visitors' coats to hang.

Save some of the decorations for the kids to help when they get home from school. After all, a traditional Christmas is all about the children. Buy each of your kids a set of decorations and tell them it is theirs to put on the tree wherever they want.

Tuesday, Dec. 17

While you should have mailed out all your cards and presents weeks ago, it's still not too late if you use priority mail. Perhaps, however, just send them out standard postage. Getting a card or present a few days after Christmas brightens the post-holiday. The main thing is to remain jolly above all else. Santa is watching.

Wednesday, Dec. 18

Wednesday is a bit of a break between all the prep work and the upcoming big day. Why not spend the evening making cookies with the family?

Classic Sugar Cookies

The recipe yields about 40 cookies.

Ingredients:

3-1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup (2 sticks) unsalted butter, softened
2/3 cup sugar
1 large egg, lightly beaten
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
2 teaspoons vanilla extract

In a medium bowl, mix together the flour and salt. In a large bowl, cream butter and sugar. Stir in egg, corn syrup and vanilla. Stir in flour mixture, one third at a time, until thoroughly incorporated. Pat dough into 2 flat disks, wrap in plastic, and chill for 1 to 2 hours, or until firm enough to roll out. Roll dough between 2 pieces of waxed paper to 1/4-inch thick. Cut out cookies and transfer to baking sheet with metal spatula, leaving about 1 inch between them.

Bake in a preheated 375 F oven for 8 to 10 minutes, or until just beginning to brown on edges. Place baking sheet onto wire rack and allow to cool for 5 minutes before transferring cookies onto rack to finish cooling.

Thursday, Dec. 19

Take it easy and be jolly. If you haven't completed the items above, now's the time. Christmas Eve is but five days away. Mom should go get her hair done, nails manicured and perhaps a massage is in order. Dad can finally do his Christmas shopping. The kids can either join mom, or help dad. Or just go out and take a walk with the dog. Again, be jolly.

Friday, Dec. 20

Kids are finally out of school for their Christmas break and a bit excited for Santa to come and then open all the presents. The mood is a bit hectic, crazy and exciting. Slow down and take a drive through the 19th annual Fantasy Lights display in Spanaway, just a bit up the road. The display will dazzle your family with new themes and additions to the largest drive-through display of lights in the Northwest.

Fantasy Lights is 5:30-9 p.m. to Jan. 1. The beautiful two and a quarter mile drive takes place at Spanaway County Park, 14905 Gus G Bresemann Blvd., west of 152nd/Military Road and state Route 7 (Pacific Avenue). The fee per car is $13 and $45 per bus (25-plus passengers).

For more information including driving directions: 253-798-3330, or www.piercecountywa.org/parks. It's the perfect opportunity to spend quality family time together.

Saturday, Dec. 21

This is your final day to really get everything wrapped up, so to speak. Make this your final shopping day. Leave the kids behind so you can get it all done.

They can watch "The Little Drummer Boy" on TV — it starts 7:30 a.m. on ABC. Have the kids write out a wish list the night before, that way you will know what is at the top of their desires.

But don't just purchase toys on the list. Get them needed items such as clothes or a piece of furniture for their bedroom. Make sure they have new Christmas pajamas for Christmas Eve.

Most important, for those with mischievous kids, put any unwrapped toys in a secure place, preferably under lock and key, before you head out.

This is a good time to buy enough batteries to power all the gadgets Christmas morning.

Finally, buy the grocery items that need to be fresh such as fruit, vegetables, pie and the like. And don't forget a gorgeous bouquet of flowers.

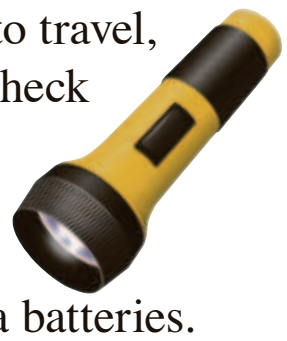
This sounds like another busy, hectic day. Another TV show might be in order, as "I Want a Dog for Christmas, Charlie Brown," starts 8 p.m. on ABC.

Sunday, Dec. 22

You now, with the help of this Twelve Days of Christmas, are ready for the final few days. This is a good time to enjoy discussing with the kiddies what should be done for Santa. Perhaps a plan to leave out the cookies and milk on Christmas Eve, and just how do those reindeer land on the roof, let alone visit billions of people in one night?

Sit back and watch the Seahawks vs. Cardinals game in Seattle, the second to last regular-season game starting at 1:05 p.m.

Monday, Dec. 23



For those planning to travel, this is a good day to check the car and make sure you have the following:

- Flashlights and extra batteries.
- A folding camping (Army) shovel.
- Jumper cables (8-12 feet long).
- Set of tire chains. Know how to install these beforehand.
- There are several types of fuses, so make sure you have the right ones for your car.
- Tools: pliers, flat and Phillips-head screwdrivers, and an adjustable wrench.
- Wool blanket.
- All the necessary fluids for your car, including 2 quarts of motor oil, brake fluid, power-steering fluid, automatic transmission fluid, a gallon of water, and a gallon of antifreeze. Also include a funnel, and keep a few rags handy in case of spills.
- Fire extinguisher.
- Road flares.
- Gloves, wool socks and a pair of boots.
- Electrical and duct tape.
- WD-40.
- Knife.
- Bright cloth or emergency road sign to display in your window in case of trouble.

You know, if anything can go wrong, it will, and a bit of preparation will make for a smooth commute.

Before you set out, check the weather conditions. Go to the National Weather Service at www.wrh.noaa.gov/sew.

If you are not traveling for the holiday, make sure the turkey is defrosted, and if you have any extra time, pick up the Nisqually Valley News' Christmas songbook and go caroling in the neighborhood, asking neighbors to join until a decent-sized group forms.

Tuesday, Dec. 24 — Christmas Eve

You've made it!

You're jolly and prepared, but you can still do a few things to make the next two days perfect.

Wake the kids up early, unless you are going to a midnight church service. That way, they'll sleep in just a bit more on Christmas morning — maybe even to 5 a.m.!

Perhaps visit friends and drop off gifts during the day. Keep the kids away from the sweets, which will help them settle down at night: no sugary soda, but maybe some lemon-tinged water and cheese and crackers; and of course, one cookie as you set them out for Santa. Before bed, let them open the pajama presents (wash ahead of time) and let them settle into bed with their new clothes, all snug and ready for Christmas morning.

If they just won't settle down, tune into "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" at 8 p.m. on ABC.

Once the kids are in bed, it's time to prepare an easy-to-make morning breakfast dish that only requires you to pull a casserole out of the fridge and into the oven.

Ingredients:

1 pound breakfast sausage
8 slices bread, cubed
4 cups shredded cheddar cheese
6 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon dry mustard powder
2 cups milk
1 (10.75 ounce) can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup milk

Directions:

Heat a large skillet over medium-high heat; cook and stir the sausage in the hot skillet until crumbly, evenly browned, and no longer pink.

Drain and discard any excess grease. Grease a 9-by-13-inch baking dish. Spread the bread cubes into the prepared dish; sprinkle the browned sausage and cheddar cheese overtop.

Beat the eggs in a mixing bowl until smooth; add the salt, mustard powder, and 2 cups of milk and whisk until evenly blended. Pour the egg mixture over the bread cubes. Cover and refrigerate overnight.

Preheat oven to 300 F (150 C). Whisk together the cream of mushroom soup and 1/2 cup milk; pour over the casserole.

Bake in the preheated oven for about 90 minutes until firm and golden brown.

Now, you really are almost done.

Pour a glass of wine and put some soothing Christmas music on low. Light a few candles. Give your spouse a hug and kiss, and a big jolly smile. Assemble any toys you still haven't done (you know there will still be a few to assemble and wrap). Set the family table with your finest and then retire.

Wednesday, Dec. 25 — Christmas Day

Wake up the kids. No, wait, they are already awake. Send them back into their rooms where you have hidden a stocking. That'll give you some time to brush the sleep from your eyes — about 30 seconds. Rush as a family to the Christmas tree and start ripping up the wrapping paper. Let them play with the toys that you already assembled and powered up with batteries; even if you had to pull them out of the packaging a few days before.

Partway through, take a time out. Have the kids help place the wrapping paper in a big box and assign a task or two to make the rest of the day smooth. If they need motivation, simply tell them once they finish that small task, it's time to get back to opening the presents.

Finally, Christmas, despite its glory and intent, is sure to spur a fight or two. Just let it go. Gently break it up, and address it another day. You've put in too much effort to let anything spoil the day.

Take or leave any of these suggestions, but do at least one thing: On behalf of the Nisqually Valley News, have a Merry Christmas and happy New Year!

Eight maids a-milking,
